WAQF INSTITUTIONS

This book aims to explore the efficiency of Waqf institutions in Malaysia, particularly in terms of their management, utilization, and impact. The book presents a comprehensive analysis of the current state of Waqf institutions in Malaysia, their strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and challenges, and provides recommendations for improving their efficiency and effectiveness.

The book is divided into several chapters, each of which examines a specific aspect of Waqf institutions in Malaysia. The first chapter provides an overview of Waqf and its significance in Islam, while the second chapter discusses the history and development of Waqf institutions in Malaysia. The following chapters focus on how the efficiency will be measured, the source of data, the methodology of the efficiency measurement and several different analysis related to the efficiency in waqf management and administration. In addition, the matter related to the determinants of waqf efficiency and the Waqf Institutions efficiency achievement also will be discussed in this book. The last part of this book proposes some recommendations on how Waqf Institutions in Malaysia can be improved as well as provide the readers with a meaningful conclusion pertaining to the overall topic that has been being discussed.
